- Student history can be traced back up to 40 days.

8. Update on Grants

Alyssa Powers

- 34 grants submitted and were scored on a rubric.
- Majority of the grants will be funded completely. A few grants will be partially funded.
- Some will be funded through other sources.
- The projects were very creative and will provide students with a variety of opportunities.
- Examples of grants: math manipulatives, iPads for art, telescopes for family night, Gizmos site license, and puppets for ELD students.

9. TSI Update (Targeted School for Improvement)

Mindy Robison

- Data will be presented to the district this week at the quarterly meeting. Overall, seeing positive results. All grade levels are seeing growth in reading and math, as measured by the RI and MI. Over 50% of students met expected growth on the Reading Inventory.

10. TSSA & Land Trust Budgets

Mindy Robison

- We currently have 4 interventionists working 4 days a week. Once the grants are funded, the budgets will go down.

11. TSSP for 2021-2022

Mindy Robison

- Discussion was held on the goals for next year. Members spoke in favor of keeping the goals the same (75% meet or exceed reading growth scores, 60% meet or exceed math growth scores, teachers provide a 3:1 to one positive to corrective ratio, and support students through the wellness survey.) Teachers are included in the conversations about the TSSP. Mindy will work with the BLT and staff, before our next meeting.

12. Considerations for Next Year (lockers, etc.)

Mindy Robison

- As we begin preparing for next year, the school is seeking parent feedback on possible negotiables for next year. For example, using lockers (pros and cons were discussed) and clear/mesh backpacks (would only be required if lockers aren't used). Midvale plans on having 3 lunches again next year, following all required safety protocols, and continuing the after school programming. The school is continuing to brainstorm ideas to close the gap, especially for students who have not participated with online learning. We will further discuss at the next meeting.
